Provider

Identifies older adult in need of assistance

Accurately and thoroughly fills out and submits referral form with the older adult's input and consent

Informs older adult that IATP will be in contact

Assists IATP with contacting participant if needed

May be asked to assist with equipment delivery if problems arise

Ensures that there is a “need” and not a “want” and may deny an ICC referral if the participant does not meet eligibility requirements

IATP

Contacts participant to determine specific need

Conducts in-person visits

Evaluates equipment that best meets the older adult's need

- May loan the equipment for a short period of time to evaluate appropriateness

Purchase and distribute equipment to older adult for long-term loan

Provide technical assistance to participant

Accept unused equipment to be recirculated in program

Defining Need

- An ICC referral MUST address a functional, cognitive, social, or psychological need that the older adult has that prevents them from completing a task in their home or community or causes them to be socially isolated
- No income/asset requirements
- First come, first serve basis for CCP and non-CCP
- “Want” is not enough
- Provider may deny an ICC referral if there is insufficient need
 - Contact IATP at iatp.care@iltech.org with specific questions
 - Participants who wish to dispute non-referral may contact the Senior Helpline

Defining Need

Examples of instances to consider an ICC evaluation

- Enable caregiver to access home
- Repeated falls
- Isolation/abuse
- Difficulty performing self-care tasks
- Difficulty eating/drinking
- Communication/Hearing problems
- Unable to participate in hobbies
- Telehealth appointments
- Necessary online shopping

Questions to Ask When Determining Need

When evaluating a request for ICC, ask yourself:

Will the...

- Device have a direct impact on helping a person stay connected to their family?
- Device make them safer in their home?
- Participant be able to use the technology without assistance?
- Device make completing daily tasks easier and have a direct impact on their life?

Will the...

- Equipment help the older adult stay in the home longer?
- Device reduce caregiver burden?
- Be regularly used by the participant?
- Equipment fit an expressed need the older adult communicated or is the want “vague” or “hypothetical?”
- Does the participant have access to other resources that could meet this need?

Examples of Need vs. Want

“Want”

I heard that I'm owed free stuff

I want what my neighbor got

I saw a flyer and I'd like one because I heard I can get one

For my kids/grandkids to use

To watch tv

I may need it one day

I was told I can get items every year

Because I want it

“Need”

I have a lot of appointments but don't have reliable transportation

I keep falling

I can't see to pay bills/cook/etc.

My hands hurt when I do X/Y

I want to stay in touch with my family

I want to learn online

I have trouble standing for long periods of time

I can't hear when I'm at church/restaurant/party

I can't afford internet but I need it for X

Referral Reminders from IATP

- ICC is a needs-based program designed to help an older adult stay more independent in their home.
- Be sure you have talked with the older adult or have them present when filling out the referral form.
- Fill out all required information – you cannot submit the referral form until you have.

Include a valid phone number and/or email address for the older adult.

Use the Referral Notes box at the end to tell us anything else we need to know.

Check the final box on the form to submit it.

After the Submission

If the form is completed and no questions are necessary, the device(s) will be shipped directly to the program participant, usually within 1-2 weeks of the referral.

If additional questions are necessary based on the details in the referral, additional time will be needed before the device can be shipped – delaying the process for the participant.

Tell older adults they will get a call from IATP with a (217) area code if we have any questions so we can be sure they are getting the correct device or devices for their personal needs.
