

Avoiding Exploitation

- Be suspicious if a deal seems too good to be true. It could be a scam!
- Do not give out personal information to phone solicitors. Protect your credit cards, Social Security and ATM information.
- Get estimates before doing renovations. Do not pay for work in advance. Check insurance references and credentials.
- Do not sign a power of attorney or any other document that allows another person to act on your behalf unless you have a complete understanding of the actions he or she can take using your name and assets.
- Use good financial practices. Sign up for direct deposit. Do not sign blank checks. Never leave money lying around. Shred credit card offers.
- Maintain a network of friends and professionals.

Ways Strangers Can Exploit You

Someone wants you to...

- buy a valueless or nonexistent product;
- invest in a fictitious company;
- claim a nonexistent prize, but first wants your credit card number to pay for shipping and handling charges or to verify your identity;
- accept an unsolicited service for a reasonable fee; however, after starting the work, he or she will insist you pay more than originally agreed; or
- split a large sum of money that has just been found; however, first you must withdraw an amount equal to your share in order to show a sign of good faith.

Someone convinces you to...

- help catch a dishonest bank employee. An individual claims to be a bank examiner and convinces you to make a large cash withdrawal to help catch the dishonest employee;
- donate to a bogus charity; or
- help someone, maybe your child or friend, who has been seriously injured or is in jail and needs money for medical treatment or bail.

Be suspicious if someone...

- Obtains access to checks written to you, your personal accounts or ATM card.
- Charges you excessive rent or fees for basic services.
- Coerces you into signing checks or personal asset documents through the use of force, manipulation, intimidation or threats.
- Fraudulently uses a power of attorney or fiduciary authority to alter your will, obtain access to your finances or dispose of your income or assets.
- Indicates he or she will stop providing for your care unless you give him or her more money or assets.
- Steals money or assets from you.
