

Artifacts of Culture Change: A tool to help promote person-directed living

The Illinois Long-Term Care Ombudsman Program has partnered with the Illinois Department of Public Health to bring this free training to nursing homes and other long-term care communities in Illinois.

Everyone who lives in long-term care deserves to have the life that they need, want, and deserve. The Artifacts of Culture Change 2.0 tool will be reviewed during this training to help bring awareness and excitement over what can be done within the regulatory guidelines to promote and sustain person-directed living.

This training will occur at 6 locations throughout the State:
